PalmTech Recognized in CRN Next-GEN 250 List
Featured as a Trailblazing Solution Provider in Emerging Technologies

August 10, 2015 – Palm Beach County based IT consulting company, PalmTech Computer Solutions, was recognized in the nation-wide, exclusive The Channel Company's 2015 CRN Next-Gen 250 list.

The Channel Company selectively chooses forward-thinking IT solution providers throughout the U.S. who have transformed their business by breaking into emerging technologies such as cloud computing, unified communications, virtualization, mobility, business analytics and business intelligence.

PalmTech received this recognition because, having been in business less than 20 years, they have adapted to an evolving marketplace with precision, leading their Palm Beach County community in IT solutions. It all started more than 30 years ago when Chuck Poole, owner and CEO of PalmTech, set his eyes on the first Personal Computer.

Since then, Poole has written more than 400 software packages and won numerous "Product of the Year" awards from three different prestigious industry publications. He has developed software for the United Nations, the FBI, the CIA, Bahamas Telecom, Cosmopolitan Magazine, MTV and hundreds of other international and governmental organizations. He now seeks to implement technology that can help his clients increase productivity, lower costs and create new opportunities through PalmTech.

"We are excited to receive this recognition, and we continue to look forward to serving our Palm Beach County community high-quality IT support," said Poole. "Being forward thinking and being experts in our field require constant education and training. Our own experts are constantly updated on the latest in technology. We look forward to challenging ourselves to receive this recognition once again next year."

"As emerging technologies come to market, so do the new delivery models needed to support them. Agile integrators are in demand now more than ever to architect new technology solutions to meet customer needs," said Robert Faletra, CEO of The Channel Company. "The trailblazing solution providers honored in this year's CRN Next-Gen 250 list continue to innovate and evolve to meet market demands and have clearly established themselves as the next generation of leadership in the IT channel. We congratulate the honorees named to this exclusive list for their achievements and look forward to following them in the future to see what they have in store."
